

Inter-Graduate School Program for Sustainable Development and Survivable Societies

Interdisciplinary Seminar
[#79-(1)]

UNDP Special Seminar: Dialogue session with UN staff - career insights of a UN organisation

By: Ms. Chinatsu Endo (Resilience Specialist,
United Nations Development Programme (UNDP))

Date: January 16, 2019 , 15:00-16:30

Venue: 201 Lecture Hall (2nd floor),
Higashi-Ichijo-Kan, Kyoto University

< Summary >

Ms. Chinatsu Endo, a UNDP (United Nations Development Programme) officer, gives a seminar, which includes a 40-minute lecture by her and interactive discussions with the audience in English.

She will talk about jobs in the UNDP and how to get jobs at UN agencies, and what is JPO.

Chinatsu Endo

遠藤智夏

Chinatsu currently serves as Resilience Programme Specialist at United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) Nepal. She joined UNDP through Junior Professional Programme (JPO) in 2014. Prior to UNDP, she worked at the Embassy of Japan in Zambia (2009-2011), Sudan and South Sudan (2012-2014) where she supported implementation of the Government of Japan's foreign policy through official development assistance (ODA). She holds M.A. in International Development from the University of Melbourne, Australia. Originally from Fukushima Prefecture.

< Active type >

Interdisciplinary Seminar with a UNDP officer

<Obligation of attendee >

Making questions and discussions, if any, in the seminar.

GSS students should register their names at the seminar room (201 Lecture Hall in Higashi-Ichijo-Kan, Kyoto University) to confirm their attendance.